

Lawrence Berkeley National Lab
 A. Goldschmidt, G. Przybylski

Narrow bandwidth measurement of crosstalk measured on the Berkeley demonstration DAQ for DOM technology. The channel 3 DOM was generating communications signals at a 1 M baud rate. All four channels were observed at the uncompensated communications output test point of the demo DAQ. The occasional, uncorrelated, transients are probably introduced by the PC-104 CPU mounted atop the stack of data acquisition boards.